Outback Steakhouse

We got this message from an MPM reader that I thought might be helpful to others on here. She said, “Not sure if you know this but Outback cooks everything in butter for the most part. You can ask for it not to be and it takes down the points so that Broccoli would be 0 and same for the chicken on the barbie. Also their basic salad is free if you remove the cheese and croutons. The one near us is really great about the changes and we have been told that all of them should be able to do the same. Hope this helps someone.” Thanks Lara! 😊

Red Robin

First of all let's address the endless steak fries that Red Robin is known for. They are delicious, but having a big basket of fries on your table that can be refilled as many times as you want is just asking for trouble. According to the Red Robin website they will now let you substitute their endless steak fries with Steamed Broccoli (0 Purple), Coleslaw (7 Purple), or Side Salad (0 Purple, w/o dressing).

One more thing you might find helpful is Red Robin's Customizer Hub on their website where you can add and take away ingredients from any foods on their menu and see what the nutrition facts are with/without the ingredient. Check it out here and customize your order to the number of calories you are shooting for. Here are a few smart lunch or dinner options with low green, blue, and purple points...
